EMIL HERZ BUYS MONTGOMERY FOR $25,000 CASH.

Turn He Wins the Colt Out in the Jockey Club Race and Also Takes Another Event With Masanello—Hot Toddy is Dead—Incidents in the Betting Ring.

Emil Herz, the former turf partner of Boots Durrell, cut an important figure in the racing and the speculation at Belmont Park yesterday. Just as the horses were being saddled for the Jockey Club race for the year Herz approached F. A. Forsythe, the owner of Montgomery, a three-year-old colt by Pensara—Montgomery Cooper, and said:

"I'll give you $25,000 for that colt! Is it a deal?"

"You're on," replied Forsythe quickly, whereupon Herz counted out the money in gold cash and the deal was clinched. The result of this transaction was that Montgomery won the race in the Belmont Park Jockey Club race, although he carried Forsythe's colors. As the horses were on the way to the post, Herz sent his commissioner to the ring and they were weighed on him at 7 to 5 to win the colt out. The race was won by Herz, although he carried Forsythe's colors. As the horses were on the way to the post, Herz sent his commissioner to the ring and they were weighed on him at 7 to 5 to win the colt out. The race was won by Herz, although he carried Forsythe's colors.

"It's a great colt and I'll bet 1 to 2 now that he can beat any horse in training."

Herz won another race, the sixth, with Masanello. He had a big crowd of spectators and his exercise was followed by all of the wise men as well as the crowd in general. Masanello was entered to be sold for $15,000, but when he was put up at auction there was no bid from Durrell. Herz, it will be remembered, had up and bought Masanello when the horse run in Durrell's colors recently. This incident opened an old feud between the former partners, who once owned McNeen, so that when Masanello was sold a few days later in Herz's colors Durrell boasted him to the skies in such a manner that it cost Herz about $500 to win the race. The fact that Durrell did not make a bid yesterday was taken to mean that he had decided to sell his share.

Montgomery won the Crescent City Derby last winter at New Orleans. He was beaten at Gravesend in his first start by Zamboni on May 25, but he won the race in the last mile five days later, getting up in the last mile. As a stretch runner the Pensara colt has few equals. He is game, speedy and a splendid looking specimen of horseflesh. He has many valuable stake engagements, and is securing him for $25,000 Herz, it is believed, has driven a clever bargain.

While the colt remained a standing favorite at 7 to 5 many shrewd players backed Barney Schreiber's Jack Atkin, who was added. This colt, at home in the mud, will be remembered for the five furlongs route, but Trainer H. B. Brandt said that he could accomplish the feat and was worth a good bet. But as the race was run it seemed as if Jack Atkin was purely a sprinter, for he never reached the quarter pole. Go Between, ridden by Brunner, an exercise lad, was well played for the place at even money, so that the ring was a loser on the result. Previous to this the Jockey Club race were Conroy, Advance Guard, Injun, Dolly Spanker, Oxford and Whimsical.

Because of a recent victory in rain and slop, Frizette was a hot favorite in the Gaiety Stakes. But she was no pony for the experts were inclined to the belief that she is not much account after all. Notsula, a filly who came here from New Orleans with a big reputation, had twice taken the measure of Frizette in the Gaiety Stakes. She was overlooked, yet Notsula was solidly backed for the place. But the ring got a lot because of the success of Mr. Belmont's Half Sovereign, a Hastings filly, who was backed from 5 down to 16. Notsula, a filly, was the homebred of the Gaiety were Royal Rose, Kitt-Orr, Ornamental, Fond Hope, Sweet Lavender, Lucille, Mary Street, Dovecot, Casaphine, Tipote and Court Dress.

In spite of his well known tendency to quit Paul J. Rainey's De Mure was touted as a sure winner of the first race. He was backed from 2 down to 8 to 2, the books winning a bunch when he trailed home in last place. The Mund undertook to give one pound to Saracene, who was backed from 5 down to 16. There will be no country drives this spring by the Coaching Club. Too much rainy weather and soft roads make it impossible for the members most loyal to the outing trips are now widely scattered. Some are abroad and others at points far apart in this country. It has been decided to defer the drive until the latter part of the season, although not definitely fixed, the drive will no doubt be to Blairden, N. J., as the guests of C. Ledyard Blair.

Usually the outings are held within two or three weeks of the spring meet early in May. The Coaching Club has been held in the past, but the weather was too bad. The drive will be to Blairden, N. Although Cella's filly Rustle looked like a sure thing in the second race, she went up in the price from 8 to 5 to 2. The wise money went on Hal, by Hastings, recently purchased from August Belmont by Frank Regan. Hal was impossible to secure better than 13 to 1 against him. He was right there in the finish, but three heads, or rather noses, beat him. Fred Burlew would have pulled off a profitable coup if Gene Russell, a son of Russell-Gene, had been backed to beat Rustle from 20 down to 15, only to be beaten by a head. Another supposed good thing was H. T. Griffin's Dixon Bell, backed from 20 down to 12. Sweet Taire was well taken to show, but the filly was not able to hold. There was also a generous play three ways on August Belmont's Queen Souvenir at 10.

The peculiar aspect of the betting on the fifth race kept many who intended to back at the prohibitive odds of 1 to 3. But in a few moments there was a wild rush to bet on 1 to 3. O. Keene's mare, Red Leaf, a noted mudlark, who was lowered in the odds from 5 to 2 to 1 to 3. Adoration, a Pennsylvania bred filly, was backed to even money, but at the last moment those who had the nerve backed her down to 7 to 10. Bill Daly's Umbrella, who showed some speed in her previous race, was also reduced from 5 to 2 to 1 to 3. The race was a gallop, gave twenty-three pounds by the scale to Red Leaf and nineteen to Umbrella.
